WHAT SHOULD I BE?

-“Hey Kiki, where are you? I have some news! I’ve decided what I want to be when I grow up. I’m going to be a BIRD.”

-“Ha ha ha, but being a bird isn’t a job. Why do you want to be a bird, Timmy?”

-“So I can fly, of course.”

-“If you want to fly, you need to find another job. But it’s fun to dream anyway,” said Kiki. “Do you have any other ideas about what you want to be when you grow up?”

-“Maybe I could be a dentist,” said Timmy. “That way, I can keep everyone’s teeth healthy and give them beautiful smiles.”

Kiki smiled and added:

-“I could also consider being a dentist to keep people’s teeth healthy. But I think I’d love to be a doctor. Helping people regain their health would be wonderful.”

Timmy closed his eyes and started daydreaming. Suddenly, he shouted and rolled under the table:

-“Hey, thief! Come out, I see you! I’m a policeman!” he yelled.

Kiki burst out laughing as Timmy stood up again, grabbed the hose from the faucet, and said:

-“Hey Kiki, you need to get out of here quickly! Wuffcosss!!! Don’t you see the fire? I’m a fireman, I must save everyone from the flames.”

Their mother shake, who had been listening to their playful conversation, walked in and said:

-“That’s enough playtime for now, kids, you’re going to be late for school.” As she kissed them and sent them off to school, she added, “You should choose a job you love. Whatever you decide, I know you’ll be successful,” and hugged them tightly.

QUESTIONS

- 1 - What job did Timmy dream of when he closed his eyes? (Policeman.)

KIKI AND TIMMY'S TRANSPORTATION ADVENTURE

One morning, Kiki and Timmy were playing in the garden with their friends. That day, they decided to go on a transportation adventure.

First, Timmy imagined he was driving a big car. "Vroom vroom! Look, this car is going so fast!" he said.

Their friend Lena said, "What about a bike? It's so much fun! We can exercise and explore at the same time."

Kiki suddenly thought about the sky. "I'm a plane pilot! I'm flying high, soaring through the clouds," she said with excitement. Lena then added, "And I'm a ship captain. I'm sailing on the sea, dancing with the waves!"

Timmy said, "And what about a train? I'm racing on the tracks, with all the carriages following me!" Just then, their other friend Jake joined in, "I'm driving a bus. I'm taking lots of people to their destinations," he said.

All day long, the children imagined many adventures with different vehicles. Each one was using a different vehicle, exploring the world at full speed. When evening came, they all gathered and said, "Today was so much fun! Every vehicle has its own special thing, and they're all so useful!"

Kiki smiled and said, "Yes, and they're so much fun too!" Timmy added, "Let's play the same game again tomorrow!" And with that, the children started looking forward to new adventures.

QUESTIONS

- 1 - What did the children dream about all day long? (Vehicles.)

SHAPES
EVERYWHERE

Kiki was explaining the shapes she learned at school to her father when she had a fun idea. "Daddy, can we make shapes on the carpet? Please!"

Her father, Billy, was actually a bit tired, but he couldn't say no to Kiki's sweet request.

They sat down on the carpet together. Her father asked, "Tell me, how are we going to make these shapes?"

Kiki excitedly began to explain: "Daddy, how about we hold hands and make a circle first?"

They held hands and worked hard to make the circle nice and round. Finally, they managed to make a perfect circle.

Kiki then said, "Now it's time for a triangle!" with a big smile. They tried to hold hands and make a triangle, but it was harder than making the circle.

Just then, her mother came into the room and asked, "What are you two up to?"

When Kiki explained, her mother said, "Hmm, doesn't a triangle have three corners?"

Her father added, "That means we need three people to make a good triangle."

Kiki asked, "Daddy, do we need four people to make a square? Should I call my brother?"

Her father reminded Kiki about the square's characteristics: "Yes, to make a square, we need four sides, and all the sides should be the same length."

Kiki said, "But no one's arms in our house are the same length!"

Her father asked, "Think about it. Who could you make this square with?"

Kiki suddenly shouted, "I've got it! I can make it with my friends!"

The next day, Kiki decided that the first thing she would do at school was make a square with her friends.

"If I learn all the shapes well, my teacher will give me a star," she thought, feeling very happy.

She made a heart shape with her tiny hands, gave her family goodnight kisses, and peacefully fell asleep.
